Middlesex School
Teacher of Visual Arts

Middlesex School seeks a permanent full-time teacher of Visual Arts, beginning in the 2019-20 academic year. Middlesex is a coeducational, college-preparatory, boarding secondary school of 400 students located in Concord, Massachusetts. Academic responsibilities include teaching photography, new media and video, as well as foundation level courses in drawing/design. We seek candidates who have experience teaching at the secondary school level or higher, and strongly prefer artists whose own practice reflects serious engagement with conceptual and formal approaches to art making. Candidates should also have a specific interest in curriculum development as it pertains to photography and digital media.

Passion for the subject and eagerness to engage with colleagues over pedagogical and curricular matters are crucial qualities that the School seeks in candidates. In addition to classroom teaching, the position includes athletic coaching, student advising, and evening/weekend supervisory duties. A willingness to participate with enthusiasm in all aspects of a residential school community is essential.

Competitive salary and benefits will be commensurate with qualifications and experience. Middlesex School is committed to cultivating and sustaining a community that embraces difference and welcomes candidates who will add to the racial and cultural diversity of our community.
