

BOOK ORDERING

The Middlesex School MBS Direct Bookstore is now open for families to purchase or rent textbooks for the first semester.

Please log into My Backpack to view the courses in which we have enrolled your child for the fall of 2018. Please note, while the courses are accurate, the schedule is not. For the sake of simplicity, we have not shown courses that are required but are not for credit (e.g. Writing Workshop). The actual times at which the courses will meet are subject to change. Please do not make any plans based on the scheduling of courses found in My Backpack prior to the start of classes in September.

With the list of courses from your child's record, go to www.mxschool.edu and click on the "MBS Direct bookstore" link under the Parents tab at the top of the page. The required books for each course are listed by the course number and name that appears on your child's courses found in My Backpack. See Frequently Asked Questions for helpful hints on the necessary school supplies and the purchasing or renting of books.

MBS Direct accepts any major credit card for billing purposes and will ship your student's books either to your home or to Middlesex School (where they will be available for pick-up during registration). Middlesex has arranged for free shipping on all MBS Direct orders shipped to the School, so it our recommendation that you have books shipped directly to the School for convenience. MBS Direct will allow students to return any text per the publisher's rules on "use" (some books are shrink wrapped and cannot be returned after the wrap has been broken) for up to 30 days after the beginning of Middlesex classes. Middlesex School will facilitate that return.

MBS Direct has an inventory of used books and books for rent. If a department indicates that used books may be purchased for a course, please feel free to acquire or rent either a used or new copy. Please do not acquire or rent used copies of books from any vendor when a used copy is not an option for purchase from MBS Direct.

While we recommend that you use MBS Direct for your purchase of texts, you may investigate other book sellers to acquire the necessary titles. If you do buy from another agent, please be absolutely certain that the text you purchase has the proper ISBN; any variation in this number may make the book unsuitable for use in our curriculum and your child will be responsible for purchasing the correct copy. As mentioned above, used books, while possibly available, are not permitted for some classes. If you purchase books from a vendor other than MBS Direct, please abide by the used book policy established for that course in order to avoid the need to purchase another copy of the required book. Additionally, if you choose to use another bookseller, be certain you understand the company's return policies as Middlesex cannot be responsible for those variables.

YOU MUST PURCHASE BOOKS BY SUNDAY, AUGUST 19th. After this date, course information will not be available on My Backpack for use with the Middlesex School MBS Direct bookstore. Students who have not ordered books by this date will not have books when classes begin.

FAQs

Who establishes and manages my account at MBS Direct?

Each family is responsible for creating and managing an individual account on MBS Direct. The only exception to this would be a family whose financial aid package includes books (see below). Students will need to know the account login information (username and password) in order to receive Guaranteed Buyback pricing when selling books back at the end of the school year.

What if my financial aid package includes books?

We will contact families of students receiving additional financial aid for books and provide separate instructions regarding how to acquire books.

What if I don't have a My Backpack account?

Go to www.mxschool.edu and click on the "Guides and Policies" link under Parent tab. Find under My Backpack the "2018-2019 MX ParentPortal Acceptable Use Policy (AUP) Form," download and return the form. Once this form is received, the School will activate your account and forward log-in instructions to the email you have provided. Through My Backpack, parents not only have access to student schedules, but they also have access to student attendance records, the directory and School account detail activity.

What school supplies should I purchase for my student?

Unlike some schools, Middlesex does not create an extensive list of supplies for each student as each course has different requirements. A student may need binders, notebooks, pens and pencils for classes. If additional supplies are needed, they can purchase them at the School Store or order them online.

What is the textbook rental option that is mentioned in the Book Ordering instructions?

Rental books may be available for some titles. If this option is available it will be listed in the purchasing options along with rental duration and return due dates.

As an international family, are there any additional steps I should plan for in ordering my child's books?

No. International credit cards are generally accepted by MBS Direct. To avoid shipping delays, we do recommend that books be shipped to Middlesex rather than home.

What if there are extra books added to a course during the semester that my child needs to acquire?

If a teacher notifies a student that a new book is necessary for a course, you or your child will find the book available in the Middlesex MBS Direct bookstore. Ordering will work the same as the initial book order. For personal security, credit card information will not be stored on your account with MBS Direct, so you will need to coordinate the purchase with your child. The book will arrive within a few business days of the order (no additional shipping charges.)

What if there are no books paired with a course?

Purchase no books at this time for the course.

How will my child get second semester books?

Once second semester courses are available, the purchasing and shipping process will be the same as in the first semester.

What if I believe my child is in the wrong course?

1. In cases where a significant change was made to a student's course requests, the student or parent was contacted via email. Please check to see if there is a message explaining the need for the change.
2. In cases of senior English courses, many of the courses were oversubscribed or the student's top choices did not fit into the student's program. Some students may find themselves in an English course they did not request. There will be no changes to senior English sections until Friday, August 31st. Please order the books that are paired with the English section in which your child is enrolled and if we are able to make a change at the start of School, we will help facilitate the exchange of books. Please do not call or email to request changes to English courses prior to the start of school.
3. If your son or daughter has been studying math or language this summer hoping to move to a different level than the one listed, that change will be made after the appropriate assessment of and conversation with the child occurs, usually as School opens in September. A number of students, new to the school and returning, may change courses as School begins. Please order the books that are paired with the course in which your child is currently enrolled. We will help facilitate an exchange of books if a student changes levels as School begins if the purchase was from MBS Direct.
4. If a student changes his or her mind and would like to request a different course or add an extra course, requests for these changes must be made by the student in person to the Academic Office after Friday, August 31st.

We have deliberately waived the MBS Direct traditional shipping fee to make sure that the few course changes that might occur in the fall are easily executed. Thus, if you are not entirely certain that a course is the correct one, you may still purchase the book early for your child and we can exchange it if necessary in September.
