Position Announcement
Middlesex School
Assistant Coach, Girls' Varsity Soccer

Middlesex School seeks a highly qualified assistant coach for the Girls' Varsity Soccer team for the fall season of 2022. Middlesex is a gender-inclusive college-preparatory boarding secondary school of 400 students located in Concord, Massachusetts. The Girls' Varsity Soccer assistant coach will be responsible for supporting the head coach in all aspects of the Girls' Soccer program. Program-specific duties may include planning and running skill and tactical drills during training, modeling the philosophies and values associated with the program, building positive relationships with a roster of roughly 20 girls from grades 9-12, and supporting with game-day management, both home and away, in a professional manner. This Assistant Coach position includes, but does not require, the possibility for active involvement in the off-campus recruitment efforts of prospective student-athletes, in conjunction with the Head Coach, the Admissions Office, and the Athletic Director.

The team practices four times per week in the afternoon, generally from 3:30-5:30pm, and play games two times per week- usually on Wednesdays and Saturdays. The fall season runs from early September to mid-November, with a varying 6-day schedule and Sundays off.

Ideal candidates will have previous coaching experience at the collegiate, prep, travel or club level and high-level playing experience. The ability to coordinate, communicate, teach the game, and foster a positive and supportive team culture with a focus on player development and advancement is essential. They will also be organized, dependable, punctual, strong communicators, and actively maintain a positive environment that is appropriate and safe- physically, psychologically, and emotionally- for all involved.

This is a part-time seasonal position, and a competitive salary will be commensurate to qualifications and experience. A Bachelor's degree is preferred.
